

This 50th Anniversary Edition of RGPS Annual Magazine holds the individual and collective memories for students and staff past and present.

The pages provide a snapshot of school life as we knew it then and now. They document the diverse programmes through the years and the many accolades we have won.

They show what can happen when a whole community decides to stay steadfast to the vision of the school.

They capture the essence of what is important to the school through the years – The RGPS Girl.

Yes, we have a rich history.

We are Raffles Girls' Primary School.

Our heritage and our name define who we are. We will continue to bear the hallmark of Excellence in all that we do and provide a premier education for all girls who enter through our gates.

We are also grateful for the support and partnership with our alumni, parents, school advisory committee and other partners in the last 50 years.

Together we will prepare our girls to lead and serve in the new world as they make a better life for all.
